

ALPHONSE MOUZON R.I.P. 1948-2016

On September 7, 2016, Alphonse Mouzon - American jazz fusion drummer and the owner of Tenacious Records - was diagnosed with neuroendocrine carcinoma, a rare form of cancer. On December 25, 2016, Mouzon died of cancer at the age of 68. A composer, arranger, producer and actor, Mouzon gained popularity in the late 1960s and early 1970s. In 1974, Mouzon recorded Mind Transplant with guitarist Tommy Bolin. (On December 4, 1976, Tommy Bolin died from an overdose of heroin and other substances, including alcohol, cocaine and barbiturates. He was 25.)
