

Jo Whiley presents the Grammy award-winning Gregory Porter live in concert from the legendary BBC Maida Vale Studios in London. He will be performing tracks from his latest album, Take Me To The Alley (released in May 2016), plus songs from his back catalogue. The jazz vocalist grew up in California and later moved to New York where he started performing at local venues. Gregory released his debut album Water in 2010, which was nominated for a Grammy, which he followed up with 2012's Be Good, and then won the Grammy for Best Jazz Vocal Album for 2013's Liquid Spirit. Gregory most recently performed on the Pyramid Stage at this year's Glastonbury Festival.
